

Carousel Fertility

*“We’re captive on a carousel of time /
we can’t return we can only look behind from where we came / and go round and round and round in the circle game”*
—The Circle Game, Joni Mitchell

A carousel is cyclical.
So, too, is a woman's cycle –
and so is the decision to preserve her fertility.

The company is named after Joni Mitchell's song, The Circle Game.
The carousel carries her forward without returning her to the start.
She looks behind to see where she came from.
She can't know what's next — but she can prepare for it with care.

Fertility clinics are medically excellent — yet are structurally unable to deliver an excellent patient experience.

21 of 30

Before. Chose their clinic by peer referral or network — no usable outcomes data exists.

23 of 30

During. Had real-time questions go unanswered for hours or days.

25 of 30

After. Reported the clinic going silent after retrieval — no proactive outreach.

29 women patient interviews — one pattern, repeated.

29 women patients were interviewed in Q1 2026 across NYU Langone, Weill Cornell, Spring, CCRM, Kindbody, Shady Grove, RMA & others

*“I had a real-time question at 9 pm on a Sunday.
I got an answer Tuesday. I made the decision anyway.”*

— PATIENT, AGE 34, IVF CYCLE 2

*“No one ever asked me how I was doing emotionally.
Not once.”*

— PATIENT, AGE 37, EGG FREEZE

“After retrieval, radio silence. I don't know where my eggs are.”
